Miss Strange to Wed. Miss Anne Noel Strange, of Danville, has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Willa, to Preston S. Cotten, of New York City. The wedding will take place at the Main Street Methodist Church on Saturday, June 26, at 5 o'clock.

The bride is a social favorite of Danville. Mr. Cotten was formerly a resident of Greenville, N. C., and is well known in Danville as a member of the State. He is a member of the New York bar.

Moonlight Excursion. St. John's Circle of Kings Daughters will run a moonlight excursion to Dutch Gap on Tuesday evening. The affair is for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms Free Hospital. There will be music and refreshments, and the public is cordially invited to attend. This moonlight outing is an annual event, and several hundred people will be in attendance. Numerous interesting parties have already been arranged. The boat leaves the wharf at 8:30 o'clock.

Zacharias-Overmann. St. Mary's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty wedding last Wednesday morning, when Miss Gertrude Anna Overmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Overmann, became the bride of Oswald Emil Zacharias, Rev. James Buchanan, of S. D., officiating. Ferns, palms and pink roses were used in the decorations. As a processional Miss Lucille McEvoy rendered Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" and played Schubert's "Serenade" and "A Perfect Day" during the ceremony.

The bride, wearing white crepe and tulle veil, with a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, was given away by her brother, Frank H. Overmann. The maid of honor, Miss Katherine Overmann, sister of the bride, was gown in cream lace, with an armful of Killarney roses. Richard Zacharias, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers included J. Wyatt Atkinson, Frank Boehling, Frank Heller, Joseph Meyers, and brothers of the bride, Fred Overmann and Joseph Overmann.

Following a reception at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Zacharias left for an extended trip to Northern cities, and upon their return will reside in Roland Park.

South's tribute to age will be charmingly featured next Tuesday evening, when the Park Place Missionary Society will give a delightful affair at the Presbyterian and Methodist Home for Ladies, corner of Mather, Chestnut and Stuart Avenue. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock, and among the interesting numbers on the program will be a drill by the West End division of the "Little Boats Club."

This company of youthful soldiers scores a great success whenever presented to the public, and their appearance on this occasion is awaited with eagerness. Later Miss Virginia Hillman, daughter of Dr. B. L. Hillman, will render several selections, while the whistling solos of Rives Brown will contribute much to the pleasure of the evening. Two little maids, Misses Mary Thomas and Lucille Matthews, as twin roses, will receive at the door. A special invitation is extended to all the friends of the institution to be present.

Interesting Reception. One of the most enjoyable social events of the early summer season was the reception tendered on Tuesday afternoon, June 8, by the Oakwood School Mothers' Club to their teachers at the home of Mrs. Booth, 1200 North Third Street. Mrs. Martha Davis gave a very interesting talk of the work done by the club during the year, thanking them for their great assistance in getting so many attractive features for the new school building, which is to be ready in September. In the drawing-room the decorations were roses, and in the dining-room daisies were used in great profusion. Covers were laid for eighteen, and the punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Burnett, assisted by Mrs. Evans. The club adjourned for the summer, but is looking forward to the beginning of the new school year with greater enthusiasm than ever before in its history.

Louis Dance. Among the many attractive social events which have crowded the past two weeks was the dance given by the Louisa Cotillion Club in the Town Hall last Monday night. The hall was decorated with high school colors, the dance being one of the numbers on the entertainment program. Punch was served throughout the evening. Among the out-of-town guests present were Miss Elizabeth Beveridge, of Richmond; Eleanor Kent and Mary Stuart Gooch, of the University of Virginia; Esther Cooke, of Fredericksburg; Gertrude McCue, of Petersburg; C.
